Protecting your private information is our priority. This Statement of Privacy applies to MusicWorks and www.MusicWorksWonders.org and governs data collection and usage. For the purposes of this Privacy Policy, unless otherwise noted, all references to MusicWorks include www.MusicWorksWonders.org. The MusicWorks website (the "Site") is a news and information site. By using the MusicWorks website, you consent to the data practices described in this statement.

Collection of your Personal Information

In order to better provide you with products and services offered on our Site, MusicWorks may collect personally identifiable information, such as your:

- First and Last Name
- Email address

We do not collect any personal information about you unless you voluntarily provide it to us. However, you may be required to provide certain personal information to us when you elect to use certain products or services available on the Site. These may include: (a) registering for an event on our Site; (b) entering a sweepstakes or contest sponsored by us or one of our partners; (c) signing up for special offers from selected third parties; (d) sending us an email message; (e) submitting your credit card or other payment information when ordering and purchasing products and services on our Site. That is to say, we will use your information for, but not limited to, communicating with you in relation to services and/or products you have requested from us. We also may gather additional personal or non-personal information in the future.

Use of your Personal Information

MusicWorks collects and uses your personal information to operate its Site and deliver the services you have requested.

MusicWorks may also use our personally identifiable information to inform you of other products or services available from MusicWorks and its affiliates.

Sharing Information with Third Parties

MusicWorks does not sell, rent or lease its customer lists to third parties.

MusicWorks may share data with trusted partners to help perform statistical analysis, send you email or postal mail, provide customer support or arrange for deliveries. All such third parties are prohibited from using your personal information except to provide these services to MusicWorks, and they are required to maintain the confidentiality of your information.

MusicWorks may disclose your personal information, without notice, if required to do so by law or in the good faith belief that such action is necessary to: (a) confirm to the edicts of the law or comply with legal process served on MusicWorks or the Site; (b) protect and defend the rights or property of MusicWorks; and/or (c) act under exigent circumstances to protect the personal safety of users of MusicWorks, or the public.

Automatically Collected Information

Information about your computer hardware and software may be automatically collected by MusicWorks. This information can include: your IP address, browser type, domain names, access times and referring website addresses. This information is used for the operation of the service, to maintain quality of the service, and to provide general statistics regarding use of the MusicWorks Site.

Links

This Site contains links to other sites. Please be aware that we are not responsible for the content or privacy practices of such other sites. We encourage our users to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of any other site that collects personally identifiable information.

Right to Deletion

Subject to certain exceptions set out below, on receipt of a verifiable request from you, we will:

- Delete your personal information from our records; and
- Direct any service providers to delete your personal information from their records.

Please note that we may not be able to comply with requests to delete your personal information if it is necessary to:

- Complete the transaction for which the personal information was collected, provide a good or service requested by you, or reasonably anticipated within the context of our ongoing business relationship with you;
- Detect security incidents, protect against malicious, deceptive, fraudulent, or illegal activity; or prosecute those responsible for that activity;
- Debug to identify and repair errors that impair existing intended functionality;
- Exercise free speech, ensure the right of another consumer to exercise his or her right of free speech, or exercise another right provided for by law;
- Comply with the California Electronic Communications Privacy Act;
- Enable sole internal uses that are reasonably aligned with your expectations based on your relationship with us;
- Comply with an existing legal obligation; or
- Otherwise use your personal information, internally, in a lawful manner that is compatible with the context in which you provided the information.

Children Under Thirteen

MusicWorks does not knowingly collect personally identifiable information from children under the age of thirteen through our Site. If you are under the age of thirteen, you must ask your parent or guardian for permission to use this Site.

Email Communication

From time to time, MusicWorks may contact you via email for the purpose of providing announcements, promotional offers, alerts, confirmations, surveys, and/or other general communication.

If you would like to stop receiving marketing or promotional communications via email from MusicWorks, you may opt out of such communications by clicking on the UNSUBSCRIBE button.

Changes to this Statement

MusicWorks reserves the right to change this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will notify you about significant changes in the way we treat personal information by sending a notice to the primary email address specified in your account, by placing a prominent notice on our Site, and/or by updating any privacy information on this page. Your continued use of the Site and/or services available through this Site after such modifications will constitute your (a) acknowledgement of the modified Privacy Policy; and (b) agreement to abide and be bound by that Policy.
